

The Change

Nina Hagen

There is no such a thing called death
It's just a transformation, yeah yeah yeah
That Boy George Roman and Queen Elizabeth
All go from station to station

There is no end, it always goes on
There is no end for you, there is no end for me
Understand, mon cherie

Heidi...
It's true When we lay down receiving life's crown
Open your eyes right now
Oh please be nice anyhow
It's gonna be no end for me

You fight with others just because you aren't all
Accumulating rubbish inside yourself
You have to throw it out, yes you have to throw it out

Human relationships are just so-so today
It's not too deep and darkness stands in our way
How about the light, I'm finished with the night

There is no end, it always goes on
Take my hand
And then we go the way, decide if you'll leave or if you'll stay
Say, what you say? C'mon, hey hey hey

Our religions have to fight with one another
JUST because we have the same father and mother
We shouldn't think them strange
So we have to do the change, the change

And our children live in danger and in sorrow
Who knows if they're not radioactive by tomorrow?
We shouldn't think it strange but we have to do the Change

Yes we have to do the Change
We have to do the Change (4x)
The Change, the Change, the Change

When we don't wake up now, who knows if we wake up at all!
We're so important and wish we would not fall
Deep down with Babylon, where's everybody gone?

It's true When we lay down receiving life's crown
And then we go the way, decide if you'll leave or if you'll stay
Say, what you say? C'mon, hey hey hey

It's true When we lay down...
