

Last December

Nina Nesbitt

You were different to anyone I've ever known
Used to have a tendency to drink alone
But when I met you I felt like I wanted to save you somehow
I loved the way that you always put me first
You gave me your best and I gave you my worst
Took it for granted 'cause I couldn't see
Why you'd let me in just to get hurt

But moments stay, when people leave
And I can say that I still remember when...

I met you there with a nervous smile
And I left, knowing you'd be here a while
I loved last December
Don't think that I don't remember it all now
Drinking mulled wine and seeing the lights
You lit up London in my eyes
I loved last December
Don't think that I don't remember it all now

We sat in the graveyard talking about life
Drive for hours and play under different lights
And then we'd run off
With enough love to keep us here for nights
You were the safety blanket I needed most
But you were always so anxious of my ghosts
That came at night from my past life

The moments stay, when people leave
And I can say that I still remember when...

I met you there with a nervous smile
And I left, knowing you'd be here a while
I loved last December
Don't think that I don't remember it all now
Drinking mulled wine and seeing the lights
You lit up London in my eyes
I loved last December
Don't think that I don't remember

Late nights and buses, laughing and running
Never making the last train in time
Laughing and fighting 'til I would start crying
'Cause you were so drunk out of your mind

I met you there with a nervous smile
I left you here with nothing
But memories of December
Now it's all I remember, yeah
Drinking mulled wine and seeing the lights
You lit up London in my eyes
I loved last December
Don't think that I don't remember it all now

Now it's all I remember
But that was last December
And this is now
