

Great Divide

Nine Days

Every moment is a memory on and on until eternity but as far as any eye can see there's a great divide

maybe we can find a way to fall into each other's arms and finally we can say nothing tired of making same mistakes with the same old bullshit lines so maybe we should say nothing every moment is our destiny we can be just who we wanna be or as far as any eye can see there's a great divide

maybe we can find a way
to fall into each other's arms
and finally we can say nothing
tired of making same mistakes
with the same old bullshit lines
so maybe we should say nothing

all we are is everything that we'll become
and might have been
all we are is everything that we'll become
and might have been all we are is a moment passing on and on and all we are is everything that we'll become
and might have been

tired of making same mistakes
with the same old bullshit lines
so maybe we should say nothing
maybe we can find a way
to fall into each other's arms
and finally we can say nothing