

You Know What You Are?

Nine Inch Nails

I tried to sing myself through, tried to get to the other side
I got to patch up the cracks in the holes that I have to hide
For a little bit of time we've been making it work okay
Just long enough to really make it hurt
When they figured me out and it all just rotted away

Don't you fucking know what you are?
Don't you fucking know what you are?
Don't you fucking know what you are? (c'mon get back to where y ou been to)

You better take a good look 'cause you're full of shit
When they reveiled my heart I tried to believe in it
You can push it all out, you can try to pretend But you cant change anything, you cant change anything, in the end

Don't you fucking know what you are?
Don't you fucking know what you are?
Don't you fucking know what you are? (c'mon get back to where b een down)
Don't you fucking know what you are?

remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are
remember where you've came from
remember what you are

Don't you fucking know what you are? (c'mon get back to where y ou been to)
Don't you fucking know what you are? (c'mon get back to where y ou been down)
Don't you fucking know what you are? (c'mon get back to where y ou been to)

Don't you fucking know what you are? (c'mon get back to where you been down)
