The Singing Of A Lonely Soul

Niobeth

A drop of love, in rain falling, lighting up my darkness His light becomes weaker, infinite ocean of stars... Far away from a dream...

Now alone I wake, hidden in every corner Blinded to my dreams, looking for my angel

Knowing not where my dreams are flying Finding not anymore white or gold wings

Angels sing come take my ashes Wings to dust, lost heart...

Leaving back the ways leading to the sunrise Night takes in the lorn, await me...

Angels sing come take my ashes Wings to dust, lost heart...

Queen of darkness, queen of night I walk in sadness blinded by my fears Emerald breeze caresses my tears

Angels sing come take my ashes Wings to dust, lost heart...
Angels sing come take my ashes Wings to dust, lost heart...

Tears of sorrow broken like crystal Embrace cold forever,
Pale moon yearning
Where are you my angel?
