Everything Australian should be able to, uh,
Keep their culture together by using or exercising all these elements of today's reality.
And that reality is development.
And that, that development um, I would think is the way it should be right.
Not something that, uh, is put upon us or forced down our throats.
You and I know that music is a universal language.
And, uh, it doesn't have any prejudice. It has one of thinking.
Without prejudice, without prejudice, without prejudice...
