Hobbyland

My world My world My world My world There's no love lost between Me and this old great big world That will never change So I made my own one In my own time, true to scale In my own house My world My world Little shops and little houses Tiny trains that always run on time Little men and little ladies Everyone there is a friend of mine My world My world There's no love lost between Me and this old great big world That will never change So I made my own one In my own time, true to scale In my own house In my own time In my own house In my own