

Drop Your Guard

Nizlopi

Been in and out of love
For so many years
Given out so many tears
That I'm washed up on the shore
Seeing you and going wow

The heart is broken
The heart is overcome
And we have spoken
So many late nights
Praying our hearts will find your hand

Singing come down
Drop your guard
Come down
Stop trying so hard
Come down
And start living again

It's written everywhere
I see it on your face
That I am different now than I've ever been before
Woken up aged twenty-seven years old

And nothing more can make a difference
Than this place we've found together
I hold your name up high and sing it loud

It's coming down again
It's coming to this feeling
We're in town again
And I'm in love

Coming more to life
I really love this feeling
We're together love
Help me I think I'm falling

Cos it's a story old
I read it in the Bible
Coming more to life
Through the storm

And this is nothing new
It's the one thing I rely on
When this true love is ruling
Help me I think I'm falling
