

Anything Could Happen Here

No Fun At All

Took some time and a lot of hesitation
So many motives and no determination
Now is the time to be sure of what you're saying
Now is the time to let everything go, anything could happen

Anything could happen here let's open up the biosphere
I wanna break away and start another life today
Anything could happen here the genie's gonna reappear
I wanna get away and start another life tomorrow

Say, better days turn my way

Wake up time and I'm ready for commotion
I wanna tell you tell you, you better show devotion
Now is the time for the never ending challenge
Now is the time to let everything go, anything could happen

Say, better days won't you come around and straighten out this jam

Better days turn my way

Better days won't you come around and straighten out this jam
Better days turn my way
