

All For The Color

No Innocent Victim

I see the hatred buring in your heart
And your devotion to your so called cause
No matter what anyone can tell you
You're always right and they're always wrong
You say you're racially pure
But you were born in sin
Anger burns inside of you
All for the color of
How can you claim to follow Christ
When Jesus is the king of the Jews
God reaches out to despised and rejected
But turns His back on the prideful like you
All for the color of skin
Intimidation through a burning cross
As a bloody victim suffers your wrath
All for the color of
Malicious words that tear down the weak
As you devour everyone in your path
All for the color of
