Day To Daze

I trusted you at least I thought I could I tried to believe when you said I got a better job I can pay you back real soon. No! I don't do those drugs no more I know my luck has changed My lifestyle has rearranged I'm on my feet

You'll never change your ways Living from day to daze Why don't you fade away

I've heard all this before When you were sleeping on my floor You said only for a day But as those 3 weeks passed my patience didn't last nor my food
