She never really had a chance On that fateful moonlit night Sacrificed without a fight A victim of her circumstance A victimi of her circumstance

Now that I've become aware And I've exposed this tragedi A sadness grows inside of me A sadness grows inside of me It all seems so unfair

I'm learning all about my life
By looking through her eyes

(solo)

Just beyond the churchyard gates Where the grass is overgrown I saw the writing on her stone I felt like I would suffocate

In loving memory of our child So innocent, eyes open wide I felt so empty as I cried Like part of me had died

I'm learning all about my life
By looking through her eyes

And as her image
Wandered through my head
I wept just like a baby
As I lay awake in bed

And I know what it's like To lose someone you love And this felt just the same

She wasn't given any choice Desperation stole her voice I've been given so much more in life I've got a son, I've got a wife

I had to suffer one last time To grieve for her and say goodbye Relive the anguish of my past To find out who I was at last

The door has opened wide I'm turning with the tide Looking through her eyes.