You Little Creep

NoMeansNo

If you were a dog they'd put you to sleep Your looks aint' good, and your minds not deep When the talk is cheap, you got nothing to say You're high on life, and you're sick all day

I wanna take you home You little creep, you little creep I wanna get you alone You little creep, you little creep You little creep, you little creep

Your fingernails are caked with dirt And when you look at me you start to flirt You got greasy hair, you got smelly feet And a tattooed heart that says trick or treat

I'll take you home tonight
You little creep, you little creep
I'll make you feel alright
You little creep, you little creep
You little creep, you little creep

Your mother was a whore and your father was a pimp So don't put me on, you little wimp You're just a snot nosed bastard child And nobody cares if you live or die I think you're quite divine

You little creep, you little creep I'm gunna make you mine You little creep, you little creep You little creep, you little creep

Your hair is green and red and blue and those eyes you ash, they look good on you how i'd like to see your stupid smile and when you're smelling me it really drives me wild I wanna make you up

You little creep, you little creep I wanna give you a bath You little creep, you little creep You little creep, you little creep You little, little creep You little, little creep You little, little creep You little, little creep You little creep
