

Chaos

Nomy

When I wake up
To a life that I've learned to live
To control every breath I take
To control it before I break

All that you colorize
The one you'll be
All that you memorize another you for us to see

You're all like parasites
With nothing to give
You're living in a crowded world and you're taking up place
When you don't live

In my head there's an endless war
I'm starring at the ones I hate and nobody knows how wrong they are
In my head I would make you fall
I'm staring at the ones I hate I really can't wait to kill you all

I'm living in a world of chaos but nobody cares

All that you talk about
The things you say
You're taking up the air I breathe when you really should stay
Away from me

Where ever I turn
Where ever I go
I really can't stand this live right next to you

I'm living in a world of fuck ups and all that I know
You need to back the up because I'm ready to blow

When I wake up
To a life that I've learned to live
To control every breath I take
To control it before I break
And When I see you
I feel chaos inside of me
An urge to set you free
And to kill if you don't agree
