

Chasing Ghosts

Nomy

Standing all alone and no one has a clue
All she want to know is what to say and do
She's standing in the hallway when others are outside
She's dreaming of a life were she dont have to hide

When darkness falls when she's alone who can she tell it hurts
like hell
When darkness falls she wants them back to hold them close she'
s chasing ghosts

And she close her eyes and in to the dark
Away from this life away from the light
She's falling away and in to the dark
Away from this life and in to the night

Walking all alone along the riverside
Everyone she loved is hidden deep inside
The surface dances slowly in the morning light
This is were they are she'll speak to the to night

When darkness falls when she's alone who can she tell it hurts
like hell
When darkness falls she wants them back to hold them close she'
s chasing ghosts

And she close her eyes and in to the dark
Away from this life away from the light
She's falling away and in to the dark
Away from this life and in to the night
