

I am god

Nomy

I know you love me but you dont baby,

Don't blame me baby when you can't see
Who I am, what I can, do you understand
You just won't stand up
This party's gonna pop

Criticize me if you think you can
I don't give a damn if you're not my fan
Laughter fills the air
Speak now if you dare

Hey you, calm down
If you don't feel all right
I can take the fight

I know you love me but you don't baby
Your eyes are burning of something you can't have
I know you love me but you don't baby
Your soul is screaming of something I won't give

You know your enemy
You know your enemy
You know your enemy
You know your enemy

I know you love me but you don't baby
Your eyes are burning of something you can't have
I know you love me but you don't baby
Your soul is screaming of something I won't give

I know you love me but you don't baby
Your eyes are burning of something you can't have
I know you love me but you don't baby
Your soul is screaming of something I won't give

I know you love me but you don't baby
