

I will die in your place

Nomy

All this obligations Hold them on a distance if you can

So why are your eyes blue I can see the pain escaping out of you

She was born into an empty world to be a girl a girl that I will carry

Never fear this life if the end you'll face and I will die in your place

You are loved by all think about them twice before you fall

Embrace your self esteem your love is all you need now you're supreme

I will die for you, for you

Let it out
You gain nothing when you're holding it back you gotta fight them hard when they do attack
