

You better die young

Nomy

Hey little girl on your way to class
Loved by all cause you got that ass
Cutest eyes and the greatest smile
For a year, for a time, for a little while

Somebody told me that you got old
Looking for someone thats made of gold
Hey little girl on your way to class
In a year they'll be gone cause you are an ass

No one's gonna love you when you're old
Thats what they told you better stay young baby
No one's gonna care when you are gone
So if you're done you better die young baby

Hey little girl on your way to prom
One little night then your life is gone
All that you had is a fairytale
Now you're standing alone wonder why did you fail

Somebody told me that you're ok
Somebody told me you passed away
Life aint coming back for you

No one's gonna love you when you're old
Thats what they told you better stay young baby
No one's gonna care when you are gone
So if you're done you better die young baby

Why don't they ever speak of you now
Is it to much to do who gives a shit about you
Why do you remember me now when you're old and you're blue
Won't give a shit about you

One little boy on his way to school
No body likes him cause he's not cool
Thin little arms and a ugly smile
For a year for a time for a litle while

How could you leave him alone
Now when he's gone
No one's gonna love you when you're old
Thats what I'm told you better stay young baby

No one's gonna care when you are gone
So if you're done you better die young baby
I cant love you anymore
I got so much to do wont give a shit about you
So baby, now lately, you remember me

No one's gonna care when you are gone
So if you're done you better die young baby
no one's gonna love you when you're old
Thats what they told you better stay young baby

No one's gonna care when you are gone
So if you're done you better die young baby
