

Generation Idiot

Nonpoint

From the second that it came to life
Everything seemed fine
Things got ease enough for the masses
But the rest of us lay claim to the same old dangerous way
Crossing stars driving expensive cars
Planning our own parades
Champagne wishes golden dishes
People lining up just to scream your name
People living up to a standard made People giving up just to give the blame to the same damn people that are giving up
I say the same to people that are living up
It's safe to say that I'm not giving it a second thought Just to waste it on a pivotal moment that I'm giving up Draw back the hammer and I'm swinging it up and bringing it down
Taking it over my shoulders as high as I can and bringing it down
Checking for anything left and if I see breath I'm bringing it down
All back to back and then I'm packing up
Not looking for a handout gonna be out the door
And that's how it's gonna pan out

And you'll watch your bellies go hollow
When you have no one to follow

The dividing occupation of The binding separation of
This generation of idiots
generation of idiots, generation of idiots

There wasn't a better idea left to right the righteous left among the rest of us, God damn
That was a lot to be said
I'm gonna put this to bed until it never wakes again
There isn't a better addiction than letting it out Without a filter attached to the mouth
I got 99,000 problems with their very own problems
Once upon a time people talked to people, people didn't text, what's coming next?
Just food and sex, sleep repeat, food and sex
Follow me 3 simple steps, you want it so damn easy
Want it handed to you on a golden plate
While the state of the world goes watergate
And generation idiot accumulates

And you'll watch your bellies go hollow
When you have no one to follow

The dividing occupation of
The binding separation of
This generation of idiots
generation of idiots, generation of idiots

The dividing occupation of
The binding separation of
This generation of idiots
generation of idiots, generation of idiots

you have no one to follow...

The dividing occupation of
The binding separation of
This generation of idiots
generation of idiots, generation of idiots

you have no one to follow...
