

Left for You

Nonpoint

I don't think I have the answers that you're looking for Every door is boarded shut from the outside (from the outside)
I don't think that you can do this without keeping score
I don't think I can do this with you anymore

There isn't anything left for you, left for you
(To put this back together like before)
There isn't anything left for you, left for you
(To make me understand anymore)
There isn't anything left for you, left for you
(To make me want to stay)
There isn't anything left for you
Anything left for you but an enemy.

I was trying everything I could to understand
Just exactly what you were on the inside (on the inside)
I just don't have it in me anymore to hold your hand
I'm out of things to say and people to blame on you

There isn't anything left for you, left for you
(To put this back together like before)
There isn't anything left for you, left for you
(To make me understand anymore)
There isn't anything left for you, left for you
(To make me want to stay)
There isn't anything left for you
Anything left for you but an enemy.

I'm trying to lead you away but I can't
'cause trying to keep us
Together is just something that I know I cant,
Do (left for you, left for you)
I know I can't, do (left for you, left for you)
Without you.

There isn't anything left for you
To put this back together like before
There isn't anything left for you, left for you
To make me understand it anymore
There isn't anything left for you
Oh to make me want to stay
There isn't anything left for you, anything left for you...

There isn't anything left for you
To put this back together like before
There isn't anything left for you left for you
To make me understand it anymore
There isn't anything left for you left for you
Oh you're never gonna change
There isn't anything left for you
Anything left for you but an enemy.
