

Quitters

Nora

I can write you a list of everything
I've ever done wrong
Self absorbed and wasted
Because it's always on my mind
What a sad way to live
I wrote this song
Did you do something right today?
But I already forgot what I did right today
I can tell you what I did wrong
Lobotomize ourselves with work and television
What makes the wheels in your mind turn?
Forget it, quitter
You're looking forward to never thinking again?
What did you do right today?
