

Darkest Time

Norther

Once there was a time darker than the human mind
the old man told me
If there was a light
it cried a while before it died
it died away

That night he told me
of the darkest time
With his own eyes he had witnessed this crime

Once there was a place before it was a realm of grace not far from here Ruined, raped and murdered sunken deep to dark despair

Sky covered in glowing clouds Lasting night and winter
fatal atmosphere

Misery
Is there no end to this tragedy
How many tears
This darkest time
laughs at divinity
This darkest time
laughs at your fears

Once ther was a war of a kind never seen before poor stupid mankind Brother killing brother rulers crying out for more always more

From distant swords
lands wet with blood Games of slaughter
death the only goal
