

Bloodred Sunrise

Northland

Blood flows burning like fire through my veins, ...
and your nightmares are awake, run, you can't hide, I'm your fate, I am death!
Taste your last ...
and take your son's last breath, ...
your life is the price you will pay.
Die, by my hand, spill your blood, on my face!
Darkness and shadows will fall in my wake, sunlight will guide my sword!
When nighttime falls ...
light kills the dark, my eyes behold the blood, and red, sunrise, my eyes behold the blood and red, save me!
Feel the coldness of my blade piercing your bones and flesh!
The morning breeze deforms you ...
scream in pain.
Blood, stains the sky, when you bleed ...
a new day begins.
I am the slayer of the eternal night, essence of the day, creator of the dawn.
I die and am born every day, when I rise time just withers away
Alright!
Darkness and shadows will fall in my wake, sunlight will guide my sword!
When nighttime falls ...
light kills the dark, my eyes behold the blood, and red, sunrise, my eyes behold the blood and red, save me!
