

Revenge

Northland

When the darkness remains on your way,
there's no star to follow in the night.
Awake my son; your heart will be your guide.
Walk and walk forwards.

When the arrows cross your lonely heart,
and the bastards scream for victory.
Awake my son; their heads soon will fall
Their blood will flow away.

In the name of my gods, of my king and my land
We will fight 'till we rise again.

We want revenge!!
Destiny is now by our side.
For what you did you all will pay.
Someday you will taste my revenge.

From the darkness to the light I will ride day and night.
Enemies on my way will pay what they deserve.
In the name of my gods, of my king and my land.
We will fight 'till we rise again.

When the light is shining on our way and the stars that we follow bright so high
We Rise our swords!
And together we scream!

In the name of my god,
of my king and my land,
We will ride till we rise again.

We want revenge!
Destiny is now by our side.
For what you did you all will pay
Someday you will taste my revenge.
