

Just forget all about fate
While I unlock this gentlemen's promise
With flesh like fire but it lacks a color
And chemical laughs fly around like drama
I know I move like an apparition
in a style that's all ghostwritten
but these are the things I can take apart
These are the things I can take...

You move me like I've got new feet...
"Just don't leave me like this
'Cause I need wonder..."

My stereo has blown away
So for now your voice can stay...
But once they all circle me...
I will rip apart this machine...
(My stereo has blown away)

I am a prince with paper parts
Made of spit and paper dolls
A killer's karma has been bound
Uneven seams, a broken bow...
She's got this problem with people flying
One way tickets and a fear of crying
But these are the things she can take apart
These are the things I will take...

You move me like I've got new feet...
"Just don't leave me like this
'Cause I need wonder..."
Just don't leave me like this

My stereo has blown away
So for now your voice can stay...
But once they all circle me...
I will rip apart this machine...
[repeat]

(I cut her up and sent all the parts and they Hung them on all the corners and bars)
