

Two Zero Two

Northstar

What's this odd game that's all over the airwaves?
It's their loose lips that laid me so sick with an ear pinned down on your chest And all I heard were sighs from that shotgun that she hides so well, so well under that dress My my what an awful mess

Does that dress fit alright?
I wanna know why it falls off and on
Are you OK baby?
Hopefully Mississippi will lynch you like it did me

I'm a cabaret
A Champagne cafe
Everyone uses to celebrate But I'm just not ready to rot and dance and laugh to the sweetest death I ever had Oh my you look awful with a mouthful
Of sex like drugs but I just can't seem to switch off this machine That turns ivory into kerosene

Does that dress fit alright?
I wanna know why it falls off and on
Are you OK baby?
Hopefully New York City will lose you like it did me

And I've got glass eyes that have died so many times with thighs and sighs that scream I got to get mine
And I've got glass eyes that have died so many times
with thighs and sighs that scream I got to get mine
