

Crystal Ring

Nosferatu

It's hard to hear your voice again
Haven't heard you for a while
It's hard to see your face again
Haven't seen it for a while
All your things are spinning round
All your things are spinning now

Down by the trees where the rain comes falling
Is how her body hides
Down in the shade where the young girl's crying
Is where here body lies
Down by the trees where the rain comes falling
Is how her body hides
Down in the shade where the young girl's crying
Is where here body lies

It's now or never the voice says It's a long time down the line
It's a crystal ring It's a big decision It's not hard to find
The leaves are dead This place is stone A body moves Didn't move at all

Down by the trees where the rain comes falling
Is how her body hides
Down in the shade where the young girl's crying
Is where here body lies
Down by the trees where the rain comes falling
Is how her body hides
Down in the shade where the young girl's crying Is where here body lies
