

Darkness Brings

Nosferatu

Watching as you turn your eyes to the sky,
Born again through you,
Another second and you lose it all,
Rising up in you,
Hold you down till you can't breathe at all,
Inside you,
And while you sleep he's feeding on the fear,
Burning inside you.

Darkness brings,
The Devil rides on angels wings through the fire.
Won't you dance into the night?
Laugh away the morning light, Come alive!

His darkness bleeds within your heart,
Fallen out of reach,
Sleeps inside you while your soul's on fire,
Waiting by the door.
Still your tears wont end, you suffer his ambition,
Crawling up the walls,
It's such a shame to see your confirmation die in vain,
I bleed in revelations, but it makes me laugh, just the same.

Darkness brings,
The Devil rides on angels wings through the fire.
Won't you dance into the night?
Laugh away the morning light, Come alive!

Keeping faith and the lies you give,
Coming through.
On your knees with the avatars,
Come pouring down.
And the night sings, and your world turns black,
No turning back
Have you lost the will to save your soul,
believe the dreams that you were sold?
Eternal seas and the resurrection lives.

Darkness brings,
The Devil rides on angels wings through the fire.
Won't you dance into the night?
Laugh away the morning light, Come alive!

Inside me it burns me,
it learns me not to kiss what I could kill.
Don't you long to kiss, what you should never, never kill?
Don't you long to kiss, what you should never, never kill?
