

Someone Starts To Fade Away

Nosound

Finds himself caught too many times
Limited thoughts,
compromised lines

When his eyes close,
when the walls fall,
Everyone knows
that he still hears your call

Someone starts to fade away
(when the walls fall,
he still hears your call)

When his eyes close,
when the dream stalls,
Everyone knows
that he's nowhere to fall

The smell on his clothes
the chill in the air
The feelings that grow,
but are too much to bear

(when the walls fall,
he still hears your call)
