Everlasting Godstopper

Nothingface

Today I set aside a friend But still I wait for dead Before this takes time from me We can all just see, beginning

The first time that we're inside You, you told me nothing So I know you lied We know it

It's the same But it's okay in your eyes Now outside these lines Through your own eyes never lies

Why can't you believe? I want it all back, all back Still you showed your sleeves I want it all back, all back

You know it's coming I caught you dick in hand Please don't say nothing You'll box yourself again

It's nice just to be right again But you sacrificed a friend You're the only shit I know You knew it

It's all right, change your own words Tell the truth Now, you can't deny Stay inside me, never seen

Why can't you believe? I want it all back, all back Still you showed your sleeves I want it all back, all back

There's some that you've wronged There's some that you set free There's some that deny There's some that fall on their knees

Today I set aside a friend But still I wait for dead Before this takes time from me We can all just see, beginning

The first time that we're inside You, you told me nothing So I know you lied We know it

I know I'll be alone again I know I'll be alone again
