Hate is nothing new Murderers watching every step Ignorance - oblivious to all the evidence Repent - for all that were innocent Forget - so we all can rest Hey it's the end of time We all will see it our lifetime We all will die.....Violently It's painted in the sky We all can see it but ignore it...& live our lives The fear of dying it finds us no matter where we hide ourselves Hide - some place in hell In spite of living The dead men Know where we can hide away Far away Hey it's the end of time We all will see it our lifetime We all will die.....Violently It's painted in the sky We all can see it but ignore it...& live our lives We all enjoy the blood It calms the rage within Ingest deceit to cope We never wanted this We never saw the risk We never wanted this If we could only see the past the shit and learn the truth maybe someone could adapt and show us how to change things We invented the way to terrify en masse and we all wonder why when someone wants to kill us Hey it's the end of time We all will see it our lifetime We all will die.....Violently It's painted in the sky We all can see it but ignore it...& live our lives Hate is nothing new

Murderers watching every step

Ignorance - oblivious to all the evidence

Repent - for all that were innocent

Forget - so we all can rest
