

The Reason

Novice

I always think of you when it's too late
When everything is upside down
You never let me go
You wait patiently
Sometimes I think that I will never learn
Sometimes I think that you should just throw me away
Just let me go and fall apart

You're always holding on
You never put me down
And when I can't go on
You're still right there to hold my hand

So tell me, so tell me why
You never left my side
So tell me, so tell me why
It doesn't matter where I go
You're just a step behind
You're always there just giving me a reason
A reason to believe

I can't remember the last time I was here
I know it's been too long
But sometimes things are hard to face
You never left me alone
When I was turning 'round you keep on coming
It's things like this that get to me
You got to me

So tell me, so tell me why
So tell me, so tell me why
It doesn't matter where I go
You're just a step behind
You're always there just giving me a reason
A reason to believe

Believe
You've given me a reason
(Don't let go, you've come to far, don't let go)
Sometimes I think that I will never learn (don't let go)
When I was turning 'round you keep on coming (you've come to far)
It's things like this that get to me (don't let go)
You got to me

So tell me, so tell me why
So tell me, so tell me why
It doesn't matter where I go
You're just a step behind
You're always there just giving me a reason

Believe
