True Love In The Galaxy

Nuno Bettencourt

Sadness runs, lonely dies, fear explodes The moment you arrive And all the stars align, IOm fine

LifeOs a trip, start to fall, just in time I float inside your eyes I sit there for a while and smile

(you know thereDs somebody out there)
(you know thereDs something out there)
(well what are you waiting for?)

Come aboard the rocketship WeDre blasting through the milky way Where love is a billion meteors Crashlanding into you True love in the galaxy Have you heard the crazy news IsnDt true They say that love it dies CanDt believe the lies. they lie They donDt know where we live The galaxy where love surpasses love I wish theyDd all just come with us
