

Stop Me When You've Had Enough

Nural

I've been wandering in disarray,
Walkin off the pain, that you heal
Just to open the wound.
It's sadistic, but I gotta say
In a twisted way, I don't mind it,
I like what you do.

So keep it comin, I'm just warmin up.
Have you had enough?
I should know, but I'm bound to lose.
If you ever wanna clean the slate,
Make a change of pace,
You should try to walk a mile in my shoes.

Should I let you?
I don't think you're ready to go.
If I let you, I don't think you're ready, no.
Should I let you?
I don't think you're ready to go.
If I let you...

Then could you stop me,
Whenever I tell you that I'm alright.
I know I'll make everything look just fine.
Oh, if you wonder what it feels like,
Stop me when you've had enough.

Like an addict I need of a fix,
Sparing no expense,
Just to keep this routine that we've learned.
Up the dosages from day to day,
Til I'm no longer faith,
And can give you just what you deserve.

Should I let you?
I don't think you're ready to go.
If I let you, I don't think you're ready, no.
Should I let you?
I don't think you're ready to go.
If I let you...

Then could you stop me,
Whenever I tell you that I'm alright.
I know I'll make everything look just fine.
Oh, if you wonder what it feels like,
Stop me when you've had enough.

Woah oh, woah oh, woah oh
Woah ah ohhh...

Stop me, whenever I tell you that I'm alright.
I know I'll make everything look just fine.
Oh, if you wonder what it feels like.
Could you trust me,
Whenever I tell you that I'm alright?
I know I'll make everything look just fine.
Oh, if you wonder what it feels like,

Stop me when you've had enough.
Stop me when you've had enough
