

As Sweet As You

Oceana

Baby I gotta tell you something
There's nothing sweeter than you

Everyday is better when I start with something sweet
Start with something sweet to get upon my feet
I go up to the cupboard and I take myself a treat
I take myself a treat, but still I'm feeling incomplete
All of the sweets in the world could do
All the sweet ice cream, all the jelly beans
There's nothing so sweet and so true
As sweet as you
Sweet as you

Everyday at work only waiting for my break
Waiting for my break, I have my favourite piece of cake
Sugar coating and some cream put my heart on the beat,
My heart on the beat, but still I'm feeling incomplete
All of the sweets in the world could do
All the crème brûlée, all the strawberry sorbet
There's nothing so sweet and so true
As sweet as you

A thousand bakeries can bake a thousand cakes
But all I have would be a better yay
There's nothing so sweet and so true
As sweet as you

Everyday is better when we end with something sweet
End with something sweet to carry me to sleep
Maybe something tasty like a little Hershey's kiss
A little Hershey's kiss, but still there's something that I miss
All of the sweets in the world could do
All the lemon drops, all the honey lollipops
There's nothing so sweet and so true
As sweet as you
Sweet as you

To the uhs with me!

Now shake your hands
