

In goodness wake I'll always say I do,
That it's all for you
And tricks I'd turn would always shine right through,
But it's all for you.

Like a stream overflowing
Unpredictable
A new confidence like a new king.
Like a breeze levitating
To raise a sunken soul
And to the surface shines like a new pin.

What junkie says is not what junkie do,
But it's all for you
And the tricks he turns will always shine right through,
But it's all for you.

Like a dream synchronising
With the one I missed the most
A concentrated love from a new queen.
Like a wave stabilising
I walk a tighter rope
And my new victim shines like a new pin.
I can feel lies within the Gospels that I'm sold
The tactless sentiments are a new pain.

But it's all for you.
