

Cerebral Dissection

Odious Mortem

Decompose visceral clotting the filth of dissection observing the waste beneath the flesh unable to exist without the hierarchy of being an eternal specimen nothingness is the only reality feared by all humanity memories forgotten bound to faith by the horror that our lives will come to and end those weak are the next to be patients of cerebral dissection agony of a false reality