

The Greatest Height

Of Virtue

Our hearts are stronger than lions.
Our hearts are greater than oceans.
We could all die today, and nothing would change.
Let's make a difference.
Today is the day.
Along with our fears,
I strive to overcome.
We are no longer the rats we used to be.
As they feed, I will fall away.
And we are no longer a part of this disease.
From my knees we will march.
We will rise.
We will march to the greatest of our extents.
We will rise to the greatest of our heights.
And there we will meet to claim our victory.
There we unite with our hearts tried and true.
And we are not a part of this disease.
From your knees,
get off your knees.
We will defeat the odds.
We will march.
We will rise.
