

To An Ex

Off Minor

'oh, sweetest piece of me' you say 'i've found your place in me has grown too small to fit and still grows smaller everyday in retrospect.'
the me in you has changed, the you in me still stays the same, each has no bearing on the other,
so we could say of one another.
so sweetest piece of me,
it seems we'll take each other piece by piece apart and place each in the safest place within our holding hearts.
