

Come Find Me

Off With Their Heads

Where do I go from here, I feel like I'm done,
I've been everywhere and met everyone,
But I haven't found the reason, that keeps me running
I haven't stayed in a place for more than a month,
Since I left home, in search of the one
Thing that I can be other than a failure,

It's a long way to go seems never ending,
Follow my footsteps and there you'll find me
I've got a long way to go, it's never ending
Follow my footsteps and there you'll find me

I've grown a custom of being alone,
That's the way I live, it's all I know
Please bear with me, I'm not a normal person
I lost most of my friends since I can't keep in touch
Always nervous and sick, I take on too much,
But I cannot concede, I cannot end my searching

I've got a long way to go seems never ending,
Follow the sound of my voice and you'll find me

Where do I go from here, after all that I've done
I still haven't changed, I still haven't found
A thing to put an end to all this searching
I need to find my way back to where I began
Retrace my footsteps, inside again
I cannot continue this path so self defeating

But I'm lost and alone please come and find me
Follow the sound of my voice, and there I'll be
I'm lost and alone I need you to find me
Follow the sound of my voice, and there I'll be
Follow the sound of my voice, and there I'll be
