

Spare Time

Off With Their Heads

How do you spend your spare time what do you do to pass the day do you focus on the bad times and how you never get your way you're never gonna be ok you're gonna be sick til your dying day don't you take a prescription to keep that smile on your face you know it's just another illusion living your life in shades of grey but I only see red and blue and never know what to do what happened to innocence, what happened to me and you
