80 times was all it took for him he has no more tries No one seems to care too much for him You can see it in his eyes

Drive down the street that he's on Don't look his way You keep going on and on and on But you can't hear him say

Help Help Help Me Help Help