

Numb

Oh Land

She is shaking
She is shy
While we are waiting for her message
Constantly graping in her darkness
Firefly came
All expectations make her heart feel numb

She got a local anesthetic
And the light fainted
She heard the siren calls
From the shadowy side
She built a house in the darkness
As the light fainted
In an open country
And her heart was Numb

So numb

She is dancing in her grass skirt
While we are waiting for her silence
Thunder and rain
will weigh on her shelter
Morning rise
All expectations make her heart feel numb

She got a local anesthetic
And the light fainted
She heard the siren calls
From the shadowy side
She built a house in the darkness
As the light fainted
In an open country
And her heart was
Numb
