Watergate

Watergate Scenery twisted As I slip off the back of the rock That's so hard to hold on to And what a day you left me You went through the back door You knew there was no hope

And I wish you were back there To see what's going on And I wish you could be here To see what's going on

Watergate Serious twist it As I stab at the back weave of thread Form fabric of existence And what a way You let be You went through the black door

And I wish you were back there To see what's going on And I wish you could be here To see what's going on

And I wish you could be here
