

The Greatest Song I Ever Heard

OK Go

And we saw Cat Power singing hour after hour of a future that would never be
And I sank to the bottom for a summer and an autumn trying to figure out which was me
And she pinned me down to [Our Lady Parade?]* groove waiting for the soul to stray [stay?]
] When it quieted down I heard the sound And that's the greatest song I ever heard
Yeah, that's the greatest song I ever heard

Now I saw Bob Dylan gone electric Feeling Pete Seeger with his axe in the crowd
Maggie and the farm never meant no harm but my heart started beating too loud
And I caught a glimpse of a feeling I had once

But let it slip away in the pain
And now I'm just playing
Never stop playing

'Cause that's the greatest song I ever heard

I ever heard, yeah That's the greatest song I ever heard

Yeah, that's the greatest song I ever heard

That's the greatest song I ever heard

5x We solved all the problems with bigger problems, with bigger problems.

The greatest song I ever heard We solved all the problems with bigger problems, with bigger problems.
Is the greatest song I ever heard We solved all the problems with bigger problems, with bigger problems.
The greatest song I ever heard.
