

Slaves of the World

Old Man's Child

A curse of the fallen that once died in wars in battlegrounds of hades A legacy is born In the storms of the fire the burning crusade soldiers in black enslaved by their hatred death is now bound to this world breeding the spawn, the ones named mankind one life forced to exist in the circle of lies betrayed by god

black is the dawn that arises from hell and beyond dark is the day that possesses the souls to decay far away from a past to remember the spawn embraces the world far into a future of pain life goes on, destined to fail
