

Bruise

Oleander

She holds her head within her hands

Quietly reeling
If only he could understand
What she's feeling

She moves into me
To kiss my shoulder
She waits patiently
For me to hold her

It's all I want
When I want
She's all I need
When it's all
It's all I have
When I lose
It's just a bruise

He holds his head within his hands
Contemplating
If only she could understand
Without waiting

She moves into me
To kiss my shoulder
She waits patiently
For me to hold her
Me to hold

It's all I want
When I want
She's all I need
When it's all
It's all I have
When I lose
It's just a bruise

And it's all we've ever known
Every moment
And it's for me I will grow

It's all I want
When I want
She's all I need
When it's all
It's all I have
When I lose
It's just a bruise
