

Love Was Spoken Here

Oleta Adams

Wasn't it us who looked forever in the eye
Wasn't it us who shared those moments in the night
Just a word could bring us closer than we thought possible
Now we talk in circles and don't say anything at all

Remember when you couldn't wait to see me
When you whispered softly in my ear
And we heard the language of our passion loud and clear
When love was spoken here
When did we lose sight of all the promise in our arms
When did we let go of everything that made us strong
Remember when "I'm sorry," was enough to pull us through
And saying that "I love you" was all we had to do

I miss those days when we spoke our hearts out loud
It was as easy as breathing in and out

When love was spoken here
