

Lover's Holiday

Oleta Adams

Lately you've been restless, I confess that I've neglected you
Somehow in the scheme of things we've had far too much to do
I want to get to know you all over again
So why don't we slip away on a lover's holiday?
Baby, let's unravel we don't even have to travel far
My tropical paradise is anywhere you are
I want to get to know you all over again
So why don't we slip away on a lover's holiday?
When we're alone in our own little world
I am your woman and your little girl
We'll live for no one else, just us two
With you loving me and me loving you, oh
Baby, I'm excited no one else is invited to this place
Let's quietly disappear and leave without a trace
I want to get to know you all over again
Why don't we slip away on a lover's holiday?
Come on let's, baby, let's
We've got to slip away
