Love Is a Gift

Olivia Newton-John

Here we are at last Suddenly the pieces fit All at once, I make sense of this crazy world Loved you for so long Now your hand is holding mine It's like we're standing still in time

This is our moment This is our night A new beginning of the rest of our lives With every heartbeat, with every kiss Let's always remember that love is a gift

With each passing year We will keep our love alive I will be here by your side forever Looking in your eyes, I believe in destiny I believe in you and me

This is our moment This is our night A new beginning of the rest of our lives With every heartbeat, with every kiss Let's always remember that love is a gift

The rarest thing we have on earth Is so special there's no measuring its worth

This is our moment This is our night A new beginning of the rest of our lives With every heartbeat, with every kiss Let's always remember forever and ever Let's always remember that love is a gift It's a gift
